

Jake Whitelee | Production Sound Mixer

Jake Whitelee AMPS is a sound mixer with over 15 year's experience in production sound mixing and recording on Film and TV productions, including drama, commercial and documentary projects. Jake is focused on finding ways to creatively collaborate with his fellow film makers to faithfully capture the performances given on set, using approaches ranging from tried and tested microphone placement techniques, to bespoke 3D aided design and printing. He also has a clear understanding on the needs of the post production process to help minimise the need for re-recording performances in the final mix of the project.
