

Louize Nissen | Costume Designer

Louize has won a plethora of awards for her stunning costumes including for the Tarik Salah's Sundance Film Festival Grand Jury prize winner, "The Nile Hilton Incident", Michael Noer's "Before the Frost" and the HBO television series "Beforeigners." She also designed the costumes for the Academy Award and Golden Globe nominated "Kon-Tiki", directed by Espen Sandberg and Joachim Rønning.

Louize is a Scandic/American and she studied at the Royal Danish school of handicrafts. She has an excellent knowledge of fabrics and textures, and she likes to work across all genres and the globe.
